

BOE Guiding Principles

SECOND READING

May 1, 2019

Guiding Principle:

We believe that by offering an effective early childhood program, including full-day kindergarten, focused on alignment, coherency, and continuity of programming, we are providing students with a pathway of opportunity to foster lifelong learners who are prepared for the future.

Guiding Principle:

We commit to providing students with integrated learning experiences that are authentic, relevant, and student driven, to prepare them to be creative and human centered problem solvers, armed and ready for the college or career pathways of their choosing.

Guiding Principle:

We commit to providing classrooms and schools where our students and staff can experience a safe, welcoming, and nurturing environment. We believe that for deep, connected learning to happen, our students and staff must have strong, supported, connected relationships and be engaged within the school community.

Guiding Principle:

We are proactive in our stewardship of our tax dollars and commit that the resources entrusted to us by the public will benefit our students and staff so our school district can continue to provide our students with an unparalleled educational experience.

Guiding Principle:

We remain steadfast in our belief that our schools will remain a hub of activity and continue to be a source of community pride and social connection.

Guiding Principle:

Because we are better together, we will continue to strengthen our family and community partnerships as well as our business and staff partnerships, in order to support the well-being of our students and staff.

Guiding Principle:

We are invested in the continuous improvement for our staff so that they will guide our students as learners and leaders. Our educational offerings must support the growth and development of our students and ensure their success and a bright future as jobs and education continue to evolve.
